Poster Presentation on Syllabus Structure of Current Academic Year

---

Date of Event:

14/08/2025

Organized By:

Department of Electronics & Computer Engineering (E&C)

➤ Introduction:

The Department of Electronics & Computer (E&C) organized a Poster Presentation session aimed at providing students with a clear understanding of the syllabus structure for the current academic year. The event focused on highlighting the various subjects, their importance, course structure, assessment methods, and key learning outcomes. This session was designed to help students familiarize themselves with the academic expectations and to align their academic goals with the course content.

➤ Objectives:

- To provide an overview of the syllabus structure for the current academic year.
  - To ensure students are aware of the key subjects, topics, and assessment criteria.
  - To enable students to approach their studies with a better understanding of the curriculum and its requirements.
  - To facilitate an interactive session where students could clarify their doubts regarding the syllabus.

➤ Session Overview:

The event featured a series of poster presentations displayed by various faculty members and student groups. Each poster represented a different subject or topic from the syllabus, detailing the course structure, major themes, and important concepts. These posters also included timelines for assignments, projects, and exams, giving students a holistic view of their academic responsibilities for the year.

The faculty members explained the posters in detail, providing additional insights into each subject's importance within the overall curriculum. The topics covered in the poster presentation included:

- Core subjects and electives for the year.
- Detailed explanation of practical and theoretical components.

Activity Report

- Learning outcomes and expected skills after completing each subject.
  - Key textbooks, reference materials, and online resources.
  - Assessment structure, including project work, exams, and assignments.

➤ Interactive Session:

An interactive Q&A session was held at the end of the poster presentations. Students actively participated by asking questions and discussing their concerns regarding the syllabus structure. The faculty provided clarification on:

- Subject prerequisites and interlinking of concepts.
- Assessment criteria and evaluation methods.
- Opportunities for additional academic support, including tutorials and mentoring sessions.

This session also encouraged students to seek advice on time management and how to effectively approach the course material throughout the academic year.

➤ Audience Engagement:

The event was attended by 25 students from various academic years. The students showed great interest in understanding the details of the syllabus and actively engaged with the poster displays and faculty members. The posters were well-received for their clarity and informative content. Students expressed appreciation for having a visual and interactive approach to understanding the syllabus.

➤ Feedback:

The feedback gathered from the attendees was highly positive. Some key insights included:

- The visual representation of the syllabus through posters helped in grasping the course structure more effectively.
- Students found the interactive session useful for resolving doubts and gaining clarity on course expectations.
- Several students suggested having more sessions like this at the beginning of each academic year to set clear academic goals.

➤ Conclusion:

The Poster Presentation organized by the E&C Department was an effective initiative that helped students gain a comprehensive understanding of the syllabus structure for the current academic year. The event not only provided clarity on the subjects and assessment methods but also encouraged active student participation, fostering a better academic approach. The positive feedback from the participants indicates that such events should be continued in future academic sessions to ensure students are well-prepared for their academic journey.
